

A CITY FOR EVERYONE: HOW ZONING CAN EASE THE AFFORDABLE HOUSING CRISIS

Tune in to find out how zoning is impacting our affordable housing crisis and why we need to take action now.

Thursday, March 25, 2021
6 - 7:30 PM

Click here to register on Zoom

Kat Lilley-Blair

Kat Lilley-Blair is the CEO of Family Promise of Colorado Springs, a non-profit that advocates for and empowers vulnerable families with children to achieve housing stability

Prentiss Dantzler

Dr. Dantzler is a professor in the Urban Studies Institute at Georgia State and former professor in the Sociology Department of Colorado College

Jennifer Steffel Johnson

Dr. Steffel Johnson is the Associate Chair of the CU Denver Department of Urban and Regional Planning

Anna Nelson

Anna Nelson is one of the organizing leaders of Neighbors for More Neighbors, a grassroots advocacy group that stands up for secure, more abundant homes for everyone in Minneapolis.

