

Chicanas: Nurturers and Warriors

“Chicanas: Nurturers and Warriors,” an #IAmDenver documentary film produced by the Denver Office of Storytelling, explores what it means to be Chicana. Featuring some remarkable women who have made transformative political, social and cultural contributions to Denver, the film chronicles what it is to be a woman born in this country, with strong Mexican and Indigenous roots and a life dedicated to social justice. This sweeping history spans centuries and is told like never before, with personal stories of triumph that are guaranteed to inspire and empower.

Conversations with the audience will follow each presentation.

All events are FREE and open to the public

APRIL 27 AT 11:00AM
PUEBLO COMMUNITY COLLEGE
HOAG THEATER
900 WEST ORMAN

APRIL 27 AT 5:30 PM
CSU PUEBLO
GCB BUILDING, ROOM 111
2200 BONFORTE BLVD

MAY 5 AT 5:30 PM
EL PUEBLO HISTORY MUSEUM
301 NORTH UNION

GET YOUR FREE TICKETS

www.IAmDenver.org

